My 2007 Senior Thesis would not have been possible without the help from many people...

I first would like to thank Corinne Ambler for helping me find a building through Barton Malow Company. Her persistence and time was very much appreciated especially since the building selection tends to be very difficult.

I would also like to thank David Flynn for granting me permission to study the Boston University Arena and Recreation Center.

Most importantly, thank you to Scott Mull, Barton Malow's Project Manager on the BU project. His time, patience, and knowledge has been invaluable in the completion of my senior thesis.

Of course, the AE Class of 2007! It's been a great five years and if not for all my fellow students, thesis would not have been the same.

And last but not least, my parents and brothers for supporting me throughout my academic career and helping me achieve my goals.

Thank You Everyone!
